

A place for All

A building with no walls,
fences or a roof,
whose existence falls
victim to no proof.

Entered through the heart,
this house has not a door,
no rooms do it part,
really just a floor,
unifying round,
built on loving grace,
truly common ground
to whom it may embrace.

Enter, and be seen
as a human friend,
as another means
to a common end.

Poul Michael von Bülow 2011

Inspired by the visit to Denmark by Imam Ashafa and Pastor Wuye, March 2011.